Covid's Blessing

Most pre-teens have a hard time waking up in the morning, but here at Prince of Peace, we have something that helps. Prince of Peace Catholic school is not just a parochial school, it's a school that challenges your education and supports your life skills. Attending Prince of Peace for nine months, I have developed skills that have taught me responsibility and maturity. I am eager to explain to you about how I learned many life skills at Prince of Peace. As time goes by, my school teaches me the importance of responsibility and respect, brings me closer to God, and encourages me to reach for the stars.

Many kids today don't pay attention to how they speak to adults. Teaching me caringly, Mrs. Winebarger and Mrs. Marlar, who both had a very important impact on my life, taught me respect, and how to learn from my own mistakes. Mrs. Marlar is very kind, but also strict. Her firm demeanor helps me to focus on what matters. Mrs. Alber, the art teacher at Prince of Peace, has taught me that art is just as important as core subjects. Mrs. Winebarger has taught me that you should never quit when things are difficult for you. There are always solutions I can find to overcome a challenge.

Many children do not pay attention to how they act toward Christ. Fortunately, I was lucky I found a school that taught me more about God and helped me have a stronger belief in Catholicism. My school has mass, every Wednesday, that I attend. It brought me closer to God. I learned more at mass that I could add to my religion class. Since my priest has taught me that religion matters, I have payed very close attention to learning about God in every place or time.

Prince of Peace taught me the importance of setting a goal and doing my best to accomplish it. Thankfully, I happened to have teachers who taught me to always go above and beyond.

Prince of Peace helped me believe that even when activities are tough you can always work through them someway, step by step. Here, I have developed skills that public schools would have pushed off until a higher grade. Here, I have slowly, and happily learned that no matter how hard the question, problem, or especially dream, you should always believe in things you want to achieve.

Because of the pandemic, I have learned how to set a goal and do my best, become stronger in my faith, and more respectful and responsible. Without Covid, I wouldn't I have changed schools and been able to get such a great education. I have been truly blessed to be able to attend Prince of Peace this year.
